March 25, 2014

Tuesday's Board of Supervisors meeting was our last meeting prior to the first public hearings on the FY2015 proposed budget. At our February 4th meeting, we set an advertised real estate tax rate of $1.105, a 2 cent increase over both the current rate and the County Executive's proposal. Now is an excellent time for you to add your voice the discussion.

The Board will hold three days of public hearings, beginning on April 8th. You are invited to sign up for the speakers' list and share your thoughts with the entire Board. Or, you can email your comments to the Board, or to me at huntermill@fairfaxcounty.gov. Your input is invaluable to me as we consider the budget items and priorities. Particularly of interest are your thoughts on the creation of a Fairfax County meals tax.

On a different note, April 5th is the day we will celebrate two local milestones; Reston's 50th Anniversary and founder Bob Simon's 100th Birthday. Reston is the Commonwealth's first planned residential community, designed as a place where residents could live, work, and play within the same community. The architect of this concept is Bob Simon. Reston will celebrate both landmarks on Saturday, April 5, beginning at noon, at Lake Anne Village Center. Come on out and join everyone for a piece of cake!

As always, if my office can be of assistance, please get in touch.
